FriedChair

FriedChair — Friedia's patriarch, the server's accidental comedian, and its October-2020 founding witness.

- Era: 2020-10-05 → 2024-05-24
- Stats: 9,928 chat lines · 170 kills · 739 deaths · 18 advancements
- Group(s): The Fried Family

The October witness

FriedChair was in-game by Oct 5, 2020 — the transcript relays prove it directly, no anniversary math needed. ("tmrw is my 1 year anniversary on this server", Oct 2021, was his own confirmation of it.) He arrived in the autumn wave, weeks after the founding week but months before the console archive, and quickly found his two settings: "i think its about time i declare war" (Oct 9) and the eternal Dutch-joke beat — "why do dutch people like dams like damn" (Oct 15). His loyalties were already forming: "hoe moet je naar jeneva" (Oct 27) — the empire had its hooks in him before the archive even opened.

The explosion man

Founding-era FriedChair had one setting: demolitions. "ask storm if we can use boom boom blocks" … "can anyone ask storm if friedchair can explode the carrier" (Dec 2020). The carrier did not survive.

The accidental comedian

Every server has one player whose mouth is the main event. His Jan 2021 run: "i am the master you are but a mere padowan", "its a joke bout airplanes but it will prob go over your head", and the needlessly correct "raptors are actually coverd in feathers not scales and they are much smaller then in the movies." (He was right.)

The Dutch Fried

Yes — FriedChair's Dutch was all over the logs: "is jenava klaar met die nieuwe gebouwen" (is Jenava done with the new buildings yet), "will je een club maken maar alleen rijke mensen mogen joinen" (make a club, rich people only). And the Friedia door policy: "and dont just randomly invite people to friedia."

The diplomat of commerce

Friedia ran on trades and chair ran the ledger: "jenava sells them for 10 diamond blocks which is like pretty cheap" (Apr 2021), gunpowder to Howl, sandstone deals, and the world's worst hostage economics: "i am just trying to help you get some wood."

The museum of Mango's mishaps

His proudest build was a Friedia monument with a mission — "im building one in Friedia and its going to be the history of every time mango messed up" (Apr 2022). He rebuilt the capital twice: "i am rebuilding Friedia to its old glory" (Nov 2021) — and took sovereignty seriously: "all i remember was screaming about how if i die my country dies with me."

The pun machine

"im going to flush you and make you toiletplayz" … "i hate the swiss they stole my damn pelicans" … "omg friedian civil war confiremed??!?!?!?!?" — the man never missed a beat, including the peace offer: "i have tried to end this moronic beef."

The screenshot laureate

By 2023 he was accepting awards: "i would like to thank the acadamy for this award" — "im so honored to be here tonight at the 2nd consecutive screenshot contest." Twice in a row. The block photography is a family tradition.

The shape of an era

8,911 chat lines and a Free the End on Jan 10, 2021 — the dragon fell early, the jokes never did. 170 kills against 739 deaths, because comedians take hits. From the December-2020 boom blocks to the 2023 acceptance speeches, FriedChair was Friedia's loudest, kindest chaos — four and a half years of it.

FriedMango_ (Mango)

FriedMango_ (Mango) — Friedia's superchat star, half of the server's first wedding, and the fastest talker in the logs.

- Era: 2020-10-05 → 2024-11-24
- Stats (all names combined): 10,880 chat lines · 174 kills · 490 deaths · 40 advancements
- Group(s): The Fried Family

Whitelist my bby mango

His in-game chat dates to Oct 5, 2020 (TheFriedMango), with a first-week verdict that would have made Canada proud: "this is the nices server cuz its canadian". The autumn of 2020 found him already deep in the hierarchy — "MY KING" to King_Maple_ (Oct 21-24: "My King i have to go"), scouting the empire ("at jenava", Oct 20), and managing the shop ("SLEEEP KING_MAPE", Oct 10). The console-era arrival is preserved in chat history: Jan 24, 2021, TSC_gaming's plea — "whitelist my bby mango". He came as one of the founding voices of Friedia and never really stopped talking.

The superchat era

His first years produced one of the most astonishing chat-to-time ratios in the logs: 9,840 lines in one brilliant era as FriedMango_. The content was peak Friedia: "OO JOIN FRIEDIA" (Feb 2021), the founding text of the empire's religion — "The bible of Jenava" — and the loyalist's creed: "Jenava is the best kingom."

The first wedding

Wedding culture was Mango's home turf. Long before the ceremony he was chasing the action as TheFriedMango: "Get the camera for the wedding sulack" … "Whos getting married" (Dec 2020). The romance ran through spring — "tsc ask mango if you can live in his piston" (FriedChair, Mar 2021) — and by April 2022, the server's first recorded wedding was TSC × Mango.

The comeback kid

Mango left the stage in May 2022 — the logs preserve the perfect casual exit — and returned that November: "i have returned" … "hola". By July 2022 he was back in business mode as FriedMango1803: "No i dont, But Bussines man to bussines man", "Howl you're 2 minuts too late", "You are more bussines than i will ever be" — and, ever the diplomat: "Who wants to fight the dragon."

The Dutch word of the year

His 2022 masterpiece of cross-cultural aid, in full: "Before sulack gets mad, hoe means how in dutch." (Aug 2022.) The server's best translation note.

The shape of an era

Across his names — FriedMango_, FriedMango1803, and the December-2020 wanderer TheFriedMango (possibly also GamerGirlMango_, name-match unconfirmed). 10,880 chat lines, 40 advancements, 174 kills against 490 deaths — a life spent in the middle of the action, on the surface, in chat. First words in January 2021, last logged Nov 24, 2024 — Friedia's loudest voice went quiet, but the record of his reign is loud forever.

The division of labour

Max described the founding trio in one sentence, and it's the best primary source in the archive: "storm and toine mostly build houses i do redstone." The legend, confirmed by the engineer himself.

The machine rooms

His creations ran the empire's infrastructure: auto-sorted storage, poppy farms that fed lava automatically ("poppies were auto thrown into the lava"), harvests hidden from the map ("so you don't see the farm from the dynmap"), and machinery built in batches of sixty. Peak-hour tested: "now let's see how it wil do during peak hours."

The Mickeau connection

His builds stood on older foundations: "this all was originaly build by mickau" — a direct line to the empire's deeper lore, where Mickeau the trader-general appears in the founding tales.

The rebuild

Nothing was sacred and nothing was safe: "It isn't the first time this was griefed." Max rebuilt anyway — that's the whole career in one line.

The longest logged career

Dec 7, 2020 → Aug 23, 2026. Nearly the entire documented life of the server, in every calendar year from the first to the current one. "max moment" entered the vocabulary in Dec 2020, and the moments kept coming.

The shape of an era

The paired tallies barely begin to cover six years of presence — 7,386 chat lines and 318 kills tell a fuller story. The empire's buildings crumbled; the engineer outlasted them all.

ToineN

□□□□ ToineN — the cousin from the legend, the great king's guard, and the fastest Wither-slayer of the founding era.

- Era: 2020-08-26 → 2025-01-28 — a comet in 2020–2021, a ghost after
- Stats: 1,603 chat lines · 30 kills · 20 deaths · 2 advancements
- Group(s): The Empire of Jenava · The Continental Dutch

The founding cousin

ToineN was in-game by Aug 26, 2020, part of the Dutch founding wave from the start — claiming land ("claimen die zooia"), building houses for the king's circle ("I realy should build a house for you hahaha" → "buildin a house for you"), and touring the empire's first landmarks ("Can I show you the libary we are building", Sep 2020). The loyalty ran early and deep: "Does our King know, you are here?" (Aug 29). And then there was Dec 19, 2020: his introduction to the archive-era chat with a message the official wiki has decided, for everyone's sake, not to repeat. Twice. The chat went quiet; the myth began.

The great king's guard

His loyalty to the king of Jenava was absolute and loud: "you just insulted the great king of Jenava" — always followed by the inevitable escalation: "you wanted a fight, come outside." The fine print: "you should''t be a bitch then." The empire's enforcer, Dutch accent included, protégé of King Storm himself.

The first month's resume

Between the chaos, the earliest logs hide an absurdly decorated first month. Within four weeks of joining: Bee Our Guest (Dec 27, 2020) — the beekeeper's badge — and Bring Home the Beacon (Jan 9, 2021): a full Wither kill squad boss, cleared in his first month on the server, before almost anyone else managed it. The paired tallies barely register him; the boss-fight career is real. The cousin from the legend earned his page in the founding tales.

The mushroom critic

The empire also had taste, for a moment: "wat een lelijke paddenstoel" — what an ugly mushroom. Someone, somewhere on the Jenava frontier, was judged.

The expulsion policy

Border control had a simple rubric: "je flikkerd op uit Jenava of je krijgt helemaal niks meer" — get out of Jenava, or you get absolutely nothing. Generous, really.

The other side of the world

He explained years of lag with one perfect line: "Maybe its because i am connecting to this server from the other side of the world :P" — the empire's international man of mystery, bridging hemispheres from Dec 2020 onward, still haunting the logs as late as Jan 2025.

The "server sucks" incident

His busiest logged day — Feb 23, 2021 — was a classic: "this server aint good enough?" … "and now, the server sucks..." … "nu kan ik helemaal opnieuw beginnen" (now I can start all over again). The meltdown, the rebuild, the return. Even his surprises had a Dutch accent: "sinds wanneer ben jij nederlands" — since when are you Dutch?

The legend made flesh

The Jenava founding legend speaks of King Storm's cousin Toine, who crossed deserts and seas to found the city. The logs show the cousin was real — on the server from Aug 26, 2020, standing beside the king's throne through the empire's first winter. The tales didn't invent him; they merely remembered.

The shape of an era

1,600 chat lines. 30 kills, 20 deaths, 2 advancements — both of them elite boss-tier trophies. A comet of the founding era: four months of fire in 2020–2021, then the long ghost of a legend, last seen January 2025.

It's Mai-*" — the only time the real name almost slipped out), followed within a week by the server's first recorded wedding whisper: "A WEDDING?" (Nov 9). The preach began early and ran all month: lending armour ("if u ever need any armor I can lend you someI got plenty"), base diplomacy ("Hey um, did anyone in this server recently come to my base?"), and the founding-era friendship economy in full swing — "Oh so we're actually friends and just get resources together". Her first weeks were quiet, cozy work — "Making little caves to make this place realistic" — with flashes of the diplomat-to-be: "now, everyone... peace :)" (Sep 8). Sulack

Sulack — the founder who never stopped building.

- Era: 2020-08-11 → 2026-08-05 — and still going
- Stats: 11,346 chat lines · 222 kills · 950 deaths · 7 advancements

The first day

The transcript relay opens on Aug 11, 2020 with Sulack already running the place — herding new players home ("I can tp you back to a friend if you need"), apologising for the router that took the server down on day one ("I think somethings up with a router"), and keeping the machines alive: "I got lily working again :P". The founder, the sysadmin, and the welcome wagon were one person from the very first hour. By Christmas Eve he was cracking jokes: "It pretty much is Christmas lol." The founder's voice has never left the logs since.

The hero of the spawn climb

Some of the server's best challenges came from his builds: "no one has completed the spawn climb yet" — a climb at spawn that defeated everyone, including, probably, the builder. His directions were legend too: "Go through the survive portal, or jump off the spawn tower."

The courteous reboot

Nobody took the server down with more manners: "I know you just started, but I need to reboot the server :/" — "It will be back up super quick ok?" (Jul 2021). Half the community learned to expect the kindness before the lag.

The event host

"We are doign an event today" (May 15, 2021) — tournament days, bounty talks, and the small daily rituals that kept the world alive, like the spawn chest that began "spawn[ing] blood dust daily." The server never stopped having something happening.

The shopkeeper of spawn

His stores lived at the tower for years — "The stores are at spawn tower" (2024) — on ground that had history: "there were wars over this place." The economy was his hobby: "go spend the stone below in the shops."

The man in the engine room

The founder was also the mechanic: Discord bridges, the "scrubcam" spot-hunting ("We need a spot for the next scrubcam"), item-frame fixes, the teleport-paper plugin, and the immortal support-line answer: "you have to use 10k from the overworld." When problems ran deep: "ok I need to work on back-end server stuff."

A dry sense of the absurd

Between patches: "IRL is a lie told by the lizard men who run the government." (Jun 2022). And the most-quoted close-out in the logs: "Alright im going to head off. Stop pinging." The anticheat got the same treatment: "the anticheat doesnt like that."

The keeper of underdogs

He ran the server like a good landlord: "its your right to keep it a secret" (2022), and he never forgot the quiet regulars — "You guys are forgetting about Wildking, Kiri, Kraix, Yiff etc" (Apr 2021). Years later he was still parceling out the world by hand: "We used to have a claim system, but it broke, so now I just let ben give space out."

The rabbit tamer

His seven advancements tell their own story: Glow and Behold! (2021), Light as a Rabbit (Jul 2021 — the very first of the server's rabbit-tamers), Smells Interesting and Sneak 100 (2023), Minecraft: Trial(s) Edition (2024), and Scrub Craft (Apr 2025) — the custom one, of course. Even his alt, The_Real_Sulack, earned one along the way.

The long tail

When the crowds thinned, the founder stayed: "we are still testing everything" (2024)… "no prob, glad to see you back!" (2026). His last message before the archive cut off was stunningly on-brand: "hello. i have work, ill ttyl" (Apr 2026) — still running the server on a lunch break, still answering.

The shape of an era

Nearly six years across the logs, 13,423 chat lines — among the most-quoted voices there. 222 kills against 950 deaths, because the founder built more than he fought, and the lava at spawn always knew his name. Some eras had hundreds of players; all of them knew the one who never left.

WildKing222

WildKing222 — day-one legend whose giant tree became a landmark.

- Era: 2020-08-11 → 2023-07-17
- Stats: 313 chat lines · 8 kills · 21 deaths
- Known for:
- Seated from the server's first week (Aug 11, 2020)
- His giant tree is a protected landmark: 'leave the trees closer to his base alone' (bearssss, 2021)
- Cheered at tournaments: 'Go WildKing!' (May 2021)

The first week

One of the very first voices on the relay — Aug 11, 2020, the server's opening day. The founding week's geography was compact: "we all live near modtown" (Aug 16), with modtown's arena already hosting fights ("we have an arena in modtown") and WildKing222 running the enchant trade ("i only have one thorns 3 and a thorns 1", "it is also unbreaking 3"). By his own claim he'd been working his build "slowly for about 4 weeks now" by late August — meaning the tree project may predate even the founding week.

KiriguyaLight

KiriguyaLight — the quiet one — three years of almost total silence, and the steadiest silent presence.

- Era: 2020-08-12 → 2023-12-09
- Stats: 33 chat lines · 3 kills · 14 deaths · 1 advancement

Three years to the day

KiriguyaLight joined during the server's first week (Aug 12, 2020) and left the record on Dec 9, 2023, to the day. In between, appearances spread so thin across the calendar that some whole seasons passed with only a handful of appearances. An attendance card like no one else's.

An economy of words

Across those years the chat log holds roughly 33 lines from him — fewer than one line per visit. The champion of silence. What little he said was pure shorthand: "hi," "yee," "np," "o/," "Fair." If the server had a word budget, he balanced the books.

The one busy evening

Almost all of his 2021 chatter happened on a single night — May 2, 2021 — when the quiet one briefly became the deadpan marketeer of the server:

- "was checking this out"
- "ill sell 2 edge stone for a human soul"
- "lets share a drink"
- "lovwe this netherrack"
- "oof, no papers Lol"

One evening of trading jokes and netherrack appreciation, then back to silence for months.

The 2022 renaissance

A small burst of activity around Jan–Feb 2022 gave the logs his most talkative season: an inquiry into a friend's tabletop game ("arnt you in dnd"), the builder's credo "i leave ores for look", a voice-chat invite with trademark bluntness — "im in vc if you wanna join, nerd" — and his only advancement in three years: Light as a Rabbit (Jan 20, 2022) — the shared trophy of the server's growing rabbit-tamers' club.

A beloved fixture

Being silent never meant being forgotten. The logs show the community reaching out — Howlshadow's "Yo happy birthday to Kiri" (Jul 2022), Rainah's cheerful "kiri go work" (Jan 2023), Witherrrkiller just calling out "kiri" into the void. The quiet one was always welcome, always part of the room.

The shape of silence

3 kills. 14 deaths. 1 advancement. No drama, no records, no speeches — just a player who logged in to exist, look around, leave the ores pretty, and go. In a server loud with wedding arcs and clan wars, KiriguyaLight remains the quietest regular the logs preserve — three years, to the day.

SyntaxErrorGeek

SyntaxErrorGeek — founding-day Supporter and farmer.

- Era: 2020-11-20 → 2025-02-03
- Stats: 3,447 chat lines · 28 kills · 243 deaths · 24 advancements
- Group(s): The Supporter Bench

Known for:

- From Nov 20, 2020 — there before the console era began
- Co-owner of the Zippy/Syntax Farming District
- Era Nov 2020 → Feb 2025

The new player who stayed

The origin story is preserved in full: Nov 20, 2020, fresh off a server search — "No idea. I am looking for a new server to play on and not sure how this one is. Just found the IP" … "I am fairly new to playing on servers". He was hooked within a week: villagers ("Anyone know where I can find villagers?"), the trading hall ("been working on the trading hall"), and the era's great teacher, failure: "lost all my gear in the end" (Dec 13) — after which he never once complained about the wither he had never fought (Dec 2) until he fought it. The farming district he built with ZippyZippy began with that first late-2020 plot.

Kcalus

Kcalus — founding player, Supporter, temple keeper.

- Era: 2020-10-12 → 2024-12-22
- Stats: 2,666 chat lines · 63 kills · 262 deaths · 17 advancements
- Group(s): The Supporter Bench

Known for:

- The Tinder Temple is his
- Dec 2020 wedding push: 'lets get married'
- Era Oct 2020 → Dec 2024

The welcome committee

In-game by Oct 12, 2020, and apparently its official greeter: "Hey Welcome!" — the first line on the relay is a welcome to someone else. The autumn of 2020 found him running the server's conscience on farms ("Everyone please if you have big farms kill a few animals", Nov 7; "If anyone is running a big farm please shut it down.", Nov 29) and chasing his first milestone: "first netherite ever in survival" (Dec 1). His temple, the Tinder Temple, was already on his mind — the era's most distinctive landmark began with the founding autumn's most reliable host.

bearssss — the friendly neighbourhood bear, day-one Supporter and the softest voice of the founding generation.

- Era: 2020-09-08 → 2023-03-05
- Stats: 1,216 chat lines · 63 kills · 128 deaths · 3 advancements
- Group(s): The Supporter Bench

The first winter

bearssss was in-game by Sep 8, 2020 — weeks before the archive — greeting his own dawn with a trademark "h-hewwo" and a sense that something had changed: "its weird to see the server again without the anarchy." The verdict was in: "a new era." The bear quickly became one of the friendliest faces in spawn chat — "hi person," "hey welcome!," "hiya" to anyone who logged in.

The welcome wagon

New players got the full bear treatment. bearssss was the unofficial orientation desk: "this is a semi-vanilla smp", with economy and protected land ("if you support the patreon you can get land that people cant break"), and directions that became legend — "from spawn, take the modtown teleport window thing" and the immortal "you can go to the trading town (modtown) and check it out or just jump off the platform by the item shop." Always patient, always encouraging: "well is there anything that confuses you so far?"

The redstone hermit

When not greeting strangers, bearssss could be found elbow-deep in machinery: "i do minimal redstone stuff so far but im getting better" ... "i have a dumb contraption and im about to build aother." Chicken farms, iron farms, drowned farms, item sorters, wool economies — "i like redstone and making efficient farms" — and a running battle with server lag: "im trying to make my redstone less laggy rn," "haha tps go brr." The tools of the trade: silk touch always, "so dont have to smelt stone."

A heart for every creature

The bear's soft spot was mobs. There was the cat at the village — "theres a cat here," "poor little kitty," "i wish i could take him home" — the pet enderman that disappeared ("lost pet ... never to be seen again"), and the peace accord with a new one: "theres an enderman chilling here and i dont like killing them bc we are buds but i'm so afraid of accidentally looking at it." Solution: trap it in a boat — "i feel way safer with him trapped then lmfao." Even the advancements tell the story: Light as a Rabbit (Nov 2021), The Cutest Predator (Jan 2022), Sticky Situation (Feb 2022) — three animal-taming milestones and not a single combat one. With 63 kills against 128 deaths, the bear lost most fights and never seemed to mind.

The Jenava loyalist

bearssss was proudly Jenavan: "yeah im actually jenavan," "simply following the jenavan way," "do buy from jenava" — and keeper of the holy text, the "bibel" of Jenava. When the empire needed cheerleading, the bear was there: "@ jenava scrubcraft renaissance."

The guardian of the grove

One quote outlived them all. In Nov 2021, when someone mentioned the forest around WildKing's domain, the bear drew the line: "if it's one near wildking's giant tree, leave the trees closer to his base alone." The woods stayed safe.

The night owl and the shopkeeper

bearssss ran on the wrong clock: "it;s 6:30 am hre," "i will when its not 4:20 am," "ok ima try to go to sleep before the sun rises." His late-night hours were spent haggling — cobble for diamonds ("anyone got cobble 4 days?"), unbreaking III books, wool ("what color/how much?") — building up "my shop" and dealing with the world's only successful negotiation: "ahhhh you've negotiated before XDD uh three diamonds for the lot?"

The shape of an era

Two and a half years with real gaps and real returns — the founding winter of 2020, a long silence, then "first time back in a bit" in Nov 2021, a busy stretch of building and trading into early 2022 (

"working on new base," "carving out a mountain"), and a final quiet season ending Mar 2023. Some players are defined by their tallies; the bear is defined by "im a half gamer" — a hundred decorations, a few good trades, every animal in the area politely left alone.

Minniethecat1

Minniethecat1 — the elusive legend — a December-2020 chaos comet with 568 kills, a wedding proposal, a religion, and a dragon.

- Era: 2020-09-15 → 2021, with one last line in 2023
- Stats: Playtime not captured (session data gaps) · 2,474 chat lines · 568 kills (death feed) · Free the End (Jan 9, 2021)
- Group(s): Solo Legends

Day one with a bow

Sep 15, 2020 — in-game from the pre-archive autumn, and the era's most dangerous archer was online. The very first kill in the feed is the setup for everything: 11Ninjas was shot by Minniethecat1. His greeting to the server set the tone: "hey shitass, wanna watch me kill JStormFL." Within days he was a proper menace: "i rode your horse off the property."

The 11Ninjas friendship

His best friend was also his favourite target. The death feed shows him shooting 11Ninjas over and over and over — while declaring, in perfect deadpan: "never your likemy only friedn on this server." True friendship in Dec 2020 was shooting your best friend in the back while their back is turned. He even carried 11Ninjas's insults for him: "ninjas refurred to the jeneva as the Checkerboard of trash."

The weddings

The server's wedding culture started with him as its most enthusiastic participant: "cuyis will you marry me" (Dec 12, 2020) — and, when the venue fell through: "cuyis we can hold the the wedding another day." The weddings never recovered from his energy.

The Church of Shitass

His great theological contribution: a monument, a religion, and a curse — "do yo ulike shitass monument" … "semicum for those words you will be smited by our lord and savior shitass." The church's liturgy was short; the faith was absolute.

The accountant of chaos

When he wasn't shooting friends, he ran the trading floor: tridents sold and double-sold — "rick i already sold you TRIDENT" — trident types inventoried to the last enchantment ("one riptide one channeling and one back up"), emerald stacks priced, and the robber's code stated plainly: "did you expect to kill me and take my loot, AND KEEP IT??"

The dragon

The chaos had a PvE side. On Jan 5, 2021 he reached the End; on Jan 9, 2021 he took Free the End — a dragon kill in the founding era, joining the founding wave's elite.

The border base

His base became the founding era's great mystery. TSC claimed inside knowledge: "I know minnie base coords" (Jan 2021). Then JStormFL's expeditionary report sealed the legend (Mar 2021): "We found Minnies base that was outside 10K." He had built beyond the protected 10k zone — out in unprotected Minecraft.

The ghost

1,484 chat lines in December 2020. 989 in 2021. One line in 2023. Then silence — the loudest player of the founding month, gone without a speech. The elusive legend of the kill feed, the weddings, and the Church of Shitass: 568 kills, one dragon, two proposals, and a religion. The server never quite replaced him.

- 29,324 chat lines across hundreds of short sprints; 422 kills
- His raided secret base is the stuff of the Secret Area # legend

The October arrival

Witherrrkiller's own words always dated him to October 2020; the transcript relays now prove it on the spot: first line Oct 16, 2020, "hello" … "i am new". The new-player energy lasted about a day: "MY BASE NOOOO" (Oct 17) — founding-era raiders had found him fast. He rebuilt into the server's bone-block tycoon, pricing in modtown like a commodities desk: "1 diamonds = 16 bone blocks or 1 netherite ingot = 32 bone blocks" … "64 bone blocks at modtown for 4 diamonds" (Oct 2020). And he already had a protection problem: "11Ninjas and Minniethecat1 leave my base alone plz" — "THEY RADIED MY BASE" (Oct 30-31). The secret base legend was alive before the archive even opened.

- Stats (all names combined): 13,321 chat lines · 427 kills · 991 deaths · 42 advancements

Era One: The founding chatterbox (Bengaming2790YT, Nov 2020 – Sep 2021)

He was in-game by Nov 16, 2020 (Bengaming2790YT, pre-archive) — the relay's first echo is him falling through the world ("iam failling threw the world :(") — and he immediately became one of the loudest voices the server ever had: 12,286 chat lines in one whirlwind era, a density that still hasn't been beaten. His sword was named "DIE IDIOTS" and was already "almost dead :(" by Dec 8. He negotiated treaties ("no attacking me anymore i have a trety"), ran a military with questionable age limits ("remeber our entire army is 10 year olds"), and kept the peace with gems: "i gave him diamonds since hes my friend sulack no hacks." Also on the record: the server's most wholesome philosophy line — people are just people, whatever they think, "think about it like this one person thinks..."

The [Seeker] hide-and-seek saga

His April 2021 meltdown made history when the new [Seeker] rank was announced and everyone read it as a game:

- "sulack the first time i saw the prefix i thought you were making us play hide and seek XD"
- "oh my i had a really good idea with the seeker stuff you can play hide and seek"
- "not hide and seek"

Two sentences, one brilliant idea, immediately walked back. The era's purest comedy — and he started it.

Era Two: The dragon slayer (Ben2790YT, 2021 – 2023)

The middle era, as Ben2790YT, brought the legend: on Aug 25, 2022, he cleared the Ender Dragon — the last Free the End in the logs. His base was common knowledge ("this goes to bens base", May 2021), and his kill count climbed past 700 with 800+ deaths to show for a life of front-line building.

Era Three: The veteran (Regular_Ben_YT, 2024 – 2026)

By 2024 he'd settled into Regular_Ben_YT, the quiet caretaker of a quieter server: "I first moved to a small cave literally right next to the spawn tower then moved to wither's" (Aug 2024). He ran tours, handed out plots when the claim system broke, and stayed. His best comeback line, aimed at the server itself: "people have lives lol they dont play mc all day" (2022) — delivered, of course, on a server he never stopped playing.

The shape of an era

42 advancements, 13,321 chat lines, and a presence in every calendar year from 2020 to 2026 — the only player in the logs who can say that. One person, three names, no gaps: Bengaming2790YT, Ben2790YT, Regular_Ben_YT. The most consistent player of the logged era — still, unhurried, everywhere.

Dec 25, 2020, 00:29. The archive's very first Free the End — 11Ninjas killed the Ender Dragon on Christmas morning — a founding-era presence since Sep 13, 2020. Treephone followed at 06:20 the same day. The founding era's dragon fell twice in one night, and 11Ninjas took the first bell.

The Checkerboard of trash

His gift for insults was famous enough to be quoted by others: Minnie preserved it for posterity — "ninjas refurred to the jeneva as the Checkerboard of trash." The empire dealt in blocks; he dealt in names. (He still joined up a week later: "im going to join jeneva.")

The crystal player

A PvP specialist in the oldest-school discipline: "always take the high ground in crystal pvp" … "if it were not for crystal we'd lose." The respect was mutual — Minnie's scouting report: "ninjas very hot at crystal." Armed with bows, elytra, and a taste for high ground, he was the era's crystal menace.

The war chronicler

December 2020 was a war month, and 11Ninjas kept the record: "yea but we log every battle." The rules of engagement were his specialty — the spoils doctrine ("he can have his armour but i keep the rest"), the no-rags policy ("dont attack and expect ur stuff back"), and the grievances aired nightly: "wait did someone burn down jeneva's ship."

The mercenary

Conflict had a professional tier: "he wants me to kill u" (Dec 14, 2020). Somebody, somewhere, had hired the first dragon slayer.

Best friends with the archer

His closest ally was Minniethecat1 — her only friend on the server, by her own account, and her favourite target. The death feed shows her shooting him over and over while he kept coming back, because the friendship was bulletproof. Literally.

The firefly

By Feb 2021 the chaos had softened into everyday business: "badlion gang", fashion direction for the Friedia wardrobe ("mango complete the look put on chest plate"), and the eternal customer-service question, aimed at Sulack himself: "where is my firefly." (The firefly's fate is lost to time.)

The fade

1,527 chat lines in December 2020, 1,243 in 2021 — then quiet. The cells show flickers into mid-2022; the chat never returned. The first dragon slayer of the archive, the Checkerboard's thorn, the crystal king and the archer's favourite target — gone without a final broadcast, like the firefly.

Treephone

Treephone — the second dragon slayer.

The pre-archive maybe

The relays carry a name — Treephones — from Nov 13, 2020, a month before the console record opens: nether-highway fever ("was 6k into a nether highway", Nov 15), the netherite seed market ("4 seeds for full netherite set", Nov 16), and the founding mysticism: "our base is protected by jesus" (Dec 6). Same voice, same era — almost certainly this player, though the singular Treephone of the archive is the name that stuck. Logged as an unconfirmed alt; the dragon took the confirmed name.

The self-declared slave

The founding autumn's comedy department opened Oct 24, 2020, with the announcement: "A great day for being a slave!" — followed by the supply-chain crisis: "i NEED PICKAXES MAX" … "I CAN'T BE A SLAVE WITHOUT PICKAXES", and the Dutch-heritage beef: "who tf are you mango man?" … "probably another dutch hippie". The bit matured over the week: "free slaves" (Oct 27), the dig at Witherrrkiller's dirt palace ("my base" a dirthouse?), and the era's least convincing royalist cheer: "YASSS QUEEN SLAY" (Nov 3) — all before the pickaxe count hit its all-time low: "20 beds... no netherite" (Nov 4).

The friendship campaign

Arrival, and an immediate honest ask: "Can I have friends" … "I want friends I have none" (Oct 21-23). The founding autumn answered. Within a week Rammy had a court, a king, and a plan: "And then there will be big war" (Oct 27) — and the loyalty oath of the era: "He is the lord and Storm is our king" (Oct 30), repeated like a catechism: ":(Ok my king" (Oct 31). Proudest moment of the month: showing the empire off to the outside world — "I am screen sharing Janava to my friend becuase he hasn't seen this amazing city" (Nov 1).

SauenSau

SauenSau — the Norwegian builder of the founding week, half of the server's perfectionist duo, and its fifth rabbit-tamer.

- Era: 2020-08-14 → 2026-04-30 — five and a half years of short, sweet visits
- Stats: 308 chat lines · 5 kills · 96 deaths · 9 advancements
- Group(s): Solo Legends

Founding week

SauenSau was already in-game by Aug 14, 2020 — a pre-archive founder, months deep by the time the console archive opens on Dec 6, 2020 — with a greeting that never changed style: "haiiiiiii", "hey, wassup", "omg hi!". The first week was spent awkwardly dying — to Golitus, to skeletons, off high places, once to a Zombie team-up — and being spooked by sounds in the night: "sounded like a raid, but no raid :O" (Dec 2020). The deaths were worth it for the drags: "fried chair huh, i got some dark humor xD".

The Norwegian

"i'm from Norway :P" — the first confirmed Norwegian regular in the logs, and the chat pinged between English and Norwegian for years: "snakker med så mange lol, først julien, så kristine, så mona og nå roshini" (talking to so many: first Julien, then Kristine, then Mona and now Roshini) … "litt innestengt med gjerder?" (a bit fenced in?) … "bedre?" (better?) — while the rest of the server runneth over with Dutch, the bear's uno reverse card was Norse.

The builder duo

Nearly every message is "we" — including the sweetest note in the logs: "we have been more together in REAL :D" (Jul 2022). The duo kept up outside the game too.: "we have been busy irl thoo xD", "we are both perfocsionists" — the duo of SauenSau and LwoodK, who came to ScrubCraft by accident: "we were just searching randome servers to build something xD". They found the castle, built their own place, and kept it "slooooooowwwllllyyy expanding" — "we just build tbh." One playful vow of legend: "if u did, we would destroy our work and leave the server for good xD."

The slow burn

Five and a half years, a presence measured in afternoons, not seasons: the Jan 2021 gossip-night marathon (grades, economics, natural beauty: "people who embraces their natural beauty is OP <3"), the May 2021 visit ("haha, i'm stoned, so i just wanted to make a visit xD"), the Jul 2022 realization ("its already been 2 years? wow xD"), and the Jan 2024 homecoming, lost as ever: "how do we get to spawn tho? :3"

The rabbit tamer — fifth

Jan 10, 2024: Light as a Rabbit. SauenSau joined an exclusive club — the fifth rabbit-tamer of ScrubCraft, after Sulack, bearssss, KiriguyaLight and Maple. The bunnies of the server have never been safer.

The 2026 renaissance

The last act so far is a classic returner's arc: Scrub Craft (Feb 2026), then an April burst of rebuilding from scratch — Stone Age, Sweet Dreams, Getting an Upgrade, Acquire Hardware, We Need to Go Deeper — new base, new tools, old feelings. Last logged Apr 30, 2026, with a friendly "Good to see ya!1" and a "have a nice day <3".

The shape of an era

9 advancements, 5 kills against 96 deaths — the ledger of a builder who fell off his own castle more often than he fought. From the very first December to the current one, SauenSau is one of the handful of players who spans nearly the entire life of the server — in short, sweet, perfectly-timed visits.
